

LICENSE TO PUBLISH IN

(Journal Name)

The following Grant of License ("License") must be signed and returned to the Editorial Office of the above mentioned journal, before a manuscript can be accepted for publication. If the contribution to the Journal, described below, is a joint work, Journal requires that each joint author sign this License or elect one author to sign it as their duly authorized agent. If the copyright in the contribution is owned by the author's employer, the employer or an authorized representative must sign this form. In the event that Journal decides not to publish the Work, this License shall be null and void.

1 In consideration of publication in the above mentioned Journal of the work currently titled:

and all associated supplemental materials, data and/or video files (the "Work") and authored by the sole and exclusive, irrevocable right is hereby granted to the above mentioned journal to publish, reproduce, distribute, transmit, display, store, translate, create derivative works from and otherwise use the Work in any form, manner, format, or medium, whether now known or hereafter developed, throughout the world and in any language, for the entire duration of any such right and any renewal or extension thereof and to permit/sublicense others to do any or all of the foregoing as well.

("Author"),

2 Ownership of the copyright shall remain with the Author, subject to the rights granted to the journal in paragraph 1. Journal shall be the holder of title for purpose of registration.

3 Author also retains the non-exclusive right to use the Work in the following ways without further permission but only after publication of the Work in the above mentioned journal and subject to the requirement that credit be given to its first publication in the appropriate issue of the above mentioned journal, 1) Reprint the Work in print collections of Author's own writings; 2) Reprint the Work in print format for inclusion in a thesis or dissertation that the Author writes; 3) Present the Work orally; 4) Reproduce the Work for use in courses the Author is teaching (If the Author is employed by an academic institution, that institution may also reproduce the Work for course teaching); 5) Distribute photocopies of the Work to colleagues for non-commercial purposes only (providing that recipients are informed that they may not further distribute or copy the Work); 6) Post a copy of the accepted version of the Work (the version of the paper accepted for publication in the above journal including changes resulting from peer review but prior to copy editing and production) on the Author's personal website, provided a hyperlink to the Work on the Journal's website is included and provided the accepted version is marked with the following notice: "This is the author's version of the work. It is posted here by permission of the competent authority for personal use, not for redistribution; 7) Reuse figures and tables created by the Author in future works the Author writes; 8) If the Work is prepared as a work made for hire, the Author's employer may make photocopies for internal use only; 9) Author may use or authorize use of Supporting Online Material associated with the Work for any purpose and in any format.

4 In addition to the rights retained by the Author in 3 above, authors of research papers arising out of grants awarded no earlier than 2 May 2005 who are required by their funding agencies to make their research results publicly available may do so under the following conditions: The Author may cause the posting, no sooner than 6 months after final publication of the Work in above journal, of the "Accepted Version" of the Work in his/her funding body's archive or designated repository provided it includes a hyperlink to the final published version on the Journal's website and the full reference citation. The "Accepted Version" shall be defined as the version of the paper accepted for publication in the above mentioned journal including changes resulting from peer review but prior to copy editing and production. This policy does not apply to editorials, reviews, or commentary pieces. The Author must ensure that the Accepted Version is not released on his/her funding body's archive or repository until 6 months after its final publication date.

5 In order that we may preserve the commercial value of our publication, Author agrees to obtain authorization from the journal in advance for any uses not expressly described in paragraphs 3 or 4.

6 Author warrants and represents that the Work is original, that all the facts contained therein are true and accurate, and that the Work has not been published elsewhere, and does not infringe upon any copyright, proprietary, or personal right of any third party. If the Work contains any material that is owned or controlled by a third party, Author certifies that he/she has obtained permission for its use (please attach evidence of this) and that the material is clearly acknowledged within the text.

By signing this agreement, Author warrants that he/she has the full power to enter into this agreement. This agreement shall remain in effect throughout the term of copyright in the Work and may not be revoked without the express written consent of both parties.

Author's name (Please print)

Author's Signature

For Authors employed by the United States Government [This section to be signed only if ALL authors are U. S. Government employees]: I attest that the above article was written as part of the official duties of the authors as employees of the U. S. Government and therefore the article is in the public domain.

Author's name (please print)

Author's Signature

Date

Note: Failure to return the form will delay or prevent publication